

HAS END COME IN CONFERENCE?

Reports From Portsmouth Say That The Russian And Japanese Governments Balk.

JAPAN FOR INDEMNITY; RUSSIA NOT

Japanese Believe That Russia Will Give In And That Peace Will Be Secured At Last--Other Opinions Given.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]
Portsmouth, Aug. 25.—The Saturday meeting of the peace conference may be postponed. A hitch of unknown proportions has occurred. Korostovitz announced this morning it is not definitely decided to meet as scheduled, "but," he added, "unless Japan recedes from her position, the final meeting will be held tomorrow. It is always possible that the meditation of the powers or an unexpected move of the president may lengthen the conference. Sato said the meeting will be held and others will follow, but Japan has the last word on Saghalin. The envoys were constantly in communication with their governments last night. Komura, Takahira and Sato went to Manchester this morning as guests of that city to visit the factories.

Is Not Confident
Oyster Bay, Aug. 25.—Kaneko visited the President an hour this morning. He said the prospects for peace are gloomy. He said: "I think Lansdowne is saying Russia won't pay nor cede land is making a mistake; but it seems official and I guess we will have to swallow it."

Seize Steamer
Washington, Aug. 25.—The State department has been notified by the Consul General at Yokohama that the Japanese have seized the steamship Australia owned by the Spreckles interests of San Francisco. The reason or details are ungiven.

A Deadlock
Oyster Bay, Aug. 25.—When Kaneko returned from Sagamore Hill he was in great good humor. When asked if it would be peace or war, he answered: "A deadlock, I should say." He said emphatically: "Japan will make no more concessions. The war cost her nine hundred million dollars to date. The newspapers say she offers to make peace for six hundred million. Is not that a great enough concession? What we want is peace with justice for Japan and honor for Russia." He said he did not believe any communication from the Tokyo government.

Go to Manchester
Portsmouth, Aug. 25.—Practically all of Komura's suite accompanied him to Manchester. En route to the station the automobile broke down and he was delayed several minutes. The train was held and the party rode in a special car. At the last minute Takahira decided not to go. It is supposed peace business detained him.

Denies Report
St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—The foreign office has issued a statement today as regards that published in America yesterday to the effect that Lansdowne had given an official interview, saying Russia won't pay a dollar nor cede an acre of territory. "The office denies the report and declares Lansdowne did not receive the correspondent and did not issue the statement; nevertheless it is recognized a press agent of the foreign office reiterates the statement that Russia won't pay any indemnity."

Japan's Minimum
If Mr. Sato is to be believed, $600,000,000 for one-half of Sakhalin island is the irreducible minimum Japan has established.

There is no doubt that Japan, flushed with victory, is determined to collect from Russia at least a portion of the money spent in the conduct of the war.

On the other hand, there is no doubt that Russia is equally determined that no money shall be paid. This is the rock on which the negotiations split. Since the beginning of the peace negotiations Russia has maintained that, while she was willing to grant to Japan those concessions that Japan asked before the war began, she has been consistently unwilling to pay any indemnity.

Oxley, en route to her home in Port Worth from a visit in Whitehall, Ill., left her daughter and a companion, Miss Viola Spencer of Whitehall, while the train was standing on the Eads bridge, and jumped to her death. "WAS A GENTLEMAN EVEN THOUGH DRUNK"

This is the Testimony in the Taggart Divorce Case This Morning.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]
Wooster, Aug. 25.—"Aunt" Emma Lytle was on the stand again this morning. She said Captain Taggart was drunk many times but "always was a perfect gentleman when full in Kentucky."

Leo and Morris Prindville, members of a gang of nineteen strike breaking telegraphers who, on their return from the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads, participated in a riot on a Burlington passenger train on Tuesday, in which revolvers were fired and a number of passengers narrowly escaped being shot, have been fined $50 in the municipal court at La Crosse for drunkenness.

If the Old Man is going to be kept on the jump always with these investigations, why not have a new member of the Cabinet for this work and call him Secretary of Investigations?

CLOSING OF BALTIC SEA NOT PROBABLE

Germany Will Be Unable to Shut Foreign Naval Vessels Out, Says London Dispatch.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, August 25.—The action of England in announcing that the Channel squadron would soon sail for the Baltic to conduct its annual maneuvers gave reason for belief that the rumor of William's plan to control the destinies of Norway, and eventually of Scandinavia had gained some credence in London. The announcement was greeted with a howl of wrath by the German press, which contended that the Baltic was not an open sea and that England's action was an affront to Germany. Some of the papers even advocated closing the Baltic to the warships of all nations which did not occupy some portion of its shores, and cited the closure of the Black Sea as a precedent. The analogy fails, however, for the Black Sea was closed by a contract of all the powers, not because it was surrounded by land, but because Turkey was weak and England feared Russian aggressiveness there. This time England is on the other side and France is with her, a combination of naval power which will of necessity have a deciding voice in determining maritime questions for Europe.

Celebrated Birthday with Friends at Studio in New York—Congratulated by Telegrams.

Many friends gathered in his studio at 1947 Broadway, and telegrams of congratulation came from all parts of the country. The years have dealt kindly with Mr. MacDonald. He is best known by his bust of Washington, replicas of which have been placed in every public school of this city. It is taken from a cast obtained from the famous bust of Houdin. Among other busts made by MacDonald are the seated bronze statue of Fitz-Green Hall in Central Park and the statues of Joan of Arc and Italia.

ARGENTINE EDITOR DENOUNCES SPEECH OF MR. ROOSEVELT

Says That American President's Utterances on Monroe Doctrine Threaten to South American Republics.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Buenos Ayres, Argentina, August 25.—The Prensa, commenting on President Roosevelt's speech, says: "South American diplomats are in duty bound to study President Roosevelt's utterances and resolve at their convenience to declare their attitude on the subject. The speech is the most remarkable as Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly exposed his views on the Monroe Doctrine, and no fresh development justifies his insistence. There is not the slightest danger of European interference in America. President Roosevelt's statements are an expression of his aim to cement the position of the United States among world powers. The object of his policy is not to protect South America, but to increase the influence of the United States. This is not blameworthy, but it undeniably contains a threat to South America. President Roosevelt only stated that the United States would not tolerate European territorial conquests, while Mr. Roosevelt assumes it to be the duty to compel South American nations to fulfill their obligations. South America never recognized the doctrine nor conferred on the United States any right whatever. Mr. Roosevelt's interpretation, therefore, is humiliating for South America." A second article in this paper says the extension given to the Monroe Doctrine without the adherence of South America would be the policy of violence and unfriendly aid. This seems also to be very strong on President Roosevelt.

FAMOUS FRENCH CAR IN CAPE MAY RACES

Auto That Won Second in Gooden Cup Contest Last July in America.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Cape May, N. J., August 25.—The meeting of the Cape May Automobile Club was held here today. It marked the first start in this country of the 120 horse-power F. I. A. T. racer, which finished second in the Gordon Bennett Cup race in France, last July. It has been shipped from Italy. The chauffeur is Louis Chevrolet, who raced against Mr. Christie's Blue Plier and Henry Ford's new racer. The latter car has just been completed and had never been seen in action before, by any one but Mr. F. Ford, its designer and the mechanics who built it. Experts say that it is one of the fastest automobiles in the world, and great things are expected in the racing line both in America and Europe.

RULER OF MOROCCO BRIBED BY GERMANY

Sultan Secures Loan on Plea That Exchequer is Empty and People Want Money.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Paris, August 25.—From a German official source it is learned that the Sultan of Morocco is destined to help on the negotiations for bringing about a conference. Recently the Sultan has shown a disposition to back out of his original proposition on the ground that strong opposition among his subjects had to be bought over, which was impossible in the present state of Moroccan exchequer. The explanation of the loan offered in German diplomatic circles here is that it is in the nature of a bribe to prove a fiasco, and it is further stated that Germany will shortly astonish Europe by the conciliatory character of her attitude toward France on the Moroccan question. It is added that Germany will abandon the proposal to submit the Moroccan finances to the control of a superior European Council and will consent to the policing of Morocco being organized by France exclusively. The French and German ministers at Fez are cordially working together. The French and German ministers at Fez cordially invited the Sultan to terms, and it is expected that their labors will terminate about the end of October.

M'GILLIVRAY UPSETS GOVERNOR'S PROJECT

Announces Himself as Candidate for the Nomination for Governor.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., August 25.—The announcement that Senator J. J. McGillivray will be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor, next year, and the fact that he is already busy about the state saving gubernatorial wood have caused a great stir in political circles here, for it is known that he will be a formidable candidate, being the dean of the legislature and having 16 years of service to his credit. It is also known that the administration does not want "Business Man Mac" to run. The state cabinet might have some difficulty in determining whether the La Follette candidate would be Davidson or Lenroot, but never would McGillivray be selected. It is predicted here that as soon as it suits the purposes of the administration an attempt will be made to do with the candidacy of McGillivray what was successfully done with the candidacy of S. A. Cook of Neenah two years ago, that is to identify him with the non-existent stalwart machine and thus discredit his candidacy. It worked with Cook. There are reasons why it would seem impossible to work on the man who has stood with the administration for eight years.

COLD WEATHER TO KILL FEVER

Yellow Jack Gets Beyond Control Of The Federal Health Officer Now.

SPREADS TO OUTSIDE COMMUNITIES

The Belief Prevails That There Are Over One Thousand Cases In Louisiana Outside New Orleans.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]
New Orleans, Aug. 25.—It is believed there are over a thousand cases of yellow fever in the state outside of New Orleans, and the situation there is causing great uneasiness to the federal health officers. At Patterson and Leeville, at the mouth of Bayou La Fourche, the disease is beyond control, and only frost can be depended on to stamp it out.

A new center of infection has been reported at Amelia, in Assumption parish, there having been sixty cases to date, ten of them being found Thursday. Two cases are also reported at Delivene plantation, near Patterson. Other reports are: Patterson, 10 new cases; Fort Barrow, 2; Good Hope plantation, 2; St. Rose, 1 new case, 1 death; Hanson City, 3 new cases; Elizabeth plantation, 3; Terre-Aux-Bœufs, 1.

The entire business district of Lake Providence has been declared infected with yellow fever, and a vigorous campaign against the stegomyia inaugurated under the direction of Dr. Krause. Two positive cases and five suspicious cases developed, making eleven in all. A call was sent out for nurses.

Under Martial Law.
Mississippi City has been declared under martial law and no resident will be allowed to leave the town. Governor Vardaman has assured the quarantine officers that the entire military force of the state will be called out if necessary to aid them in maintaining the embargo. Several additional companies already have been sent to the gulf coast. The rigid quarantine there already has resulted in a serious curtailment of the food supply.

Run Missouri Quarantine.
St. Louis, Aug. 25.—The steamer Alva Leva, towing a barge supposed to contain yellow fever refugees from the South, ran the quarantine blockade Thursday night. A boat put out after her, but lost the trail in the darkness. A small gasoline launch ignored the hail from the quarantine station and steamed up the river, escaping the officers of cities on both sides of the river, who put out in boats to head her off.

SMOOTH TALKER FLEECES MANY GUILIBLE WOMEN

Swiss Dentist Has Fifty Wives, But Comes To Grief Seeking To Add To Number.

New York, Aug. 25.—Dr. George A. Witzhoff, suave talker, refined in appearance, about 40 years old, is sought by the police of several cities on the charge of bigamy. In his matrimonial transactions the doctor has described himself as a Swiss dentist and chemist.

The police declare his record as a bigamist is longer and shows more daring than that of Bluebeard Hoch, the convicted Chicago bigamist and wife murderer. Lawyer Benjamin Franklin is authority for the statement that Witzhoff married the daughter of a former mayor of this city, and that after a short honeymoon he deserted her and has not been heard from since. Franklin refused to divulge the name of the young woman. Franklin represents several women complaining of Dr. Witzhoff's alleged bigamous marriages.

Fifty Wives in America.
"Witzhoff has fifty wives scattered throughout the United States," said the lawyer. "Before we get through with him it will be shown that he operated the matrimonial game by a system. He swindled his numerous wives out of amounts ranging from $100 to $10,000. A large number of these women will not appear or prosecute him, fearing the notoriety attached to the scandal."

Some of the Victims.
Four women who claim to have been married to the doctor are: Anna Parkhill, 24 years old, of Brooklyn. Loaned $1,200. Deserted. Dora Dorf, 2027 Third avenue, daughter of clothing merchant. Loaned $300. Robbed of $810. Deserted. Etta Randall of Boston. Robbed of $500. Abandoned.

NEAT BALANCE FOR CHAUTAUQUA ASSOC.

Statement Just Issued Shows $201.50 on Hand After Expenses Have Been Paid.

In a statement which has just been issued by the officers of the Janesville Chautauqua it is shown that the Association, after all expenses have been paid and the net profit divided with H. M. Holbrook, has a balance on hand of $201.50. Secretary Korst and others are naturally elated over this excellent showing. First enterprises of the kind are conducted at a loss during the first few years of their existence. With the two hundred dollars "relyer" to start with next season the management will feel warranted in offering a program much better than the one given this year and improving the grounds in a manner that will materially add to the comfort of the patrons. CLEAN SCOOP MADE ON THE CITY PAPERS

Gazette's Washington Correspondent Foretold Seizure of Tobacco.

On Monday and Wednesday last The Gazette printed in full the story of a break in some quarters regarding tobacco that had not paid the proper duty. No names were used. The Gazette's Washington correspondent—William Wolf Smith—foretold the coming seizure of the tobacco in question and a possible inquiry as to the whys and wherefores. The following dispatch in the morning papers, from New York, shows that the Gazette has scooped all the papers in the country on the story thus far:

New York, Aug. 24.—Customs officials today seized 105 bales of Cuban tobacco at the warehouse of Baker & Williams, 309 West street. The product was entered regularly at the port of Tampa, Fla., and then was brought to this city and deposited by parties other than the importers. The customs officials examined the tobacco a few days ago, and they discovered it was wrapped upon which a duty of $1.35 a pound minus 20 per cent under the Cuban treaty should have been paid. The records at Tampa show that duty was paid upon it as filler, which is only 35 cents per pound, less the 20 per cent. No arrests have been made.

EDGERTON OFFERS A TREAT TO CHILDREN

Twenty Five Little Folk From Chicago Are To Arrive There Next Monday.

Twenty-five children from the slums of Chicago are expected in Edgerton this week for a week's outing. They are expected to arrive next Monday and return September 4th. This is one of the gifts that the country can offer to the city-bred children and one which is appreciated greatly by these little people. At Edgerton they will be received in a royal style and it is a nice thing these Edgerton people are doing in giving the little people a taste of country life away from smoke and grime. Pure conditions make pure men and women and a taste of the air and freedom of Wisconsin will be a rare treat to these city folk.

DARKNESS REIGNED IN THE BALL ROOM FOR SOME TIME

Electric Light Fuse Burned Out While Festivities Were at Height at Assembly Hall.

While the dance given by Ellis McLaughlin, Walter Lawrence, and J. H. Krancovich was in progress at Assembly Hall last evening the electric light fuse burned out and darkness settled on the merry-makers. After considerable commotion, three lamps were procured and placed in position near the orchestra stand to enable Leaver's musicians to read their music. The trouble was righted in a short time and the unusual incident in nowise detracted from the enjoyment of the dancers. Nearly a hundred couples participated.

The biggest strike in the history of the anthracite coal regions is predicted by mining officials for next year.

INSTALL RESERVE POWER GENERATOR

Two Water Wheels and Other Machinery Being Placed at Plant of Electric Company.

Machinery is now being installed at the plant of the Janesville Electric Company, that will make a failure of current either for power or lighting purposes in the city impossible. When the new power house was built on the site of the old Ford mill five turbine wheel pits were constructed. Two were placed in three of these and connected to the shafting that leads into the main building. They have been used since then in the production of electricity for both the street railway and the lighting and power system. In two pits the wheels were never connected with the shafting and have been idle, but now the gears are being set on these, and connections are being made. A sixty kilowatt generator will be installed and these two wheels will be utilized in operating it. This will furnish a hundred and twelve horse power, sufficient to meet the demands for power without the use of the three other turbines and the generators which they run or the engines. Thus any failure of current is guarded against entirely.

WHAT OTHERS ARE DOING

The three-story brick building of the Arkansas Democrat, occupied as a newspaper, job printing and book binding plant, was recently destroyed by fire at a loss of $180,000. Men of the magazine and newspaper world as well as the public in general like to read these interviews, which are illustrated with photographs of some of the best known magazine writers and editors in the country.

The International Paper Company has taken the contract to supply the Philadelphia Ledger, the New York Times and the Chattanooga Times with paper for the next year. These papers are all controlled by Adolph S. Ochs, of New York.

Greensboro, N. C., is going to have a new daily known as the Tar Heel. The paper will support Congressman Blackburn and that branch of the republican party, as opposed to the so-called Rollins-Butler-Federal faction, according to its own announcement, promoters of the other new daily at Greensboro.

The St. Louis Star-Chronicle has discontinued its Sunday edition and announces that it is now the only daily newspaper in St. Louis issued on week days. Subscribers under contract to receive the Sunday edition will have their subscriptions to the daily edition extended to cover the difference.

BUYERS HUSTLING FOR NEW LEAF

Growers Have Held Out a Little, and Good Prices Are Being Paid—

Edgerton Letter.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Edgerton, Aug. 25.—With the harvesting of the 1903 tobacco crop well under way and the prospects of having the greater portion of it under shed in three weeks more, tobacco men are busy. There has never been a more genuine hustle for the crop, by buyers, than this season. The past two weeks have witnessed more contracts signed in so short a time than ever before in Wisconsin. All the heaviest dealers have had their men on the road and the strife to gain control of large packings of the new crop has been keen. The growers have gained by holding back a little. "One man with a large crop was offered $c and 2c by one buyer; two others called on him and raised the price to $3c and 2c, but he sold to No. 1 for 9c straight. The short acreage of the year and the recent destruction of much of the crop by hail has reduced the probable pack so that the early buying has been the result. All the good sound tobacco picked up, time will be taken to look out the best of what remains. The grower who has not kept up with the state of things has probably a kick coming, for himself only, on the price he received. The general prices that are being paid are from 8c to 10c in the bundle.

MULTITUDE HEARD THE LAST CONCERT

Given This Season by Imperial Band Last Evening—Has Played Ten Nights.

Last night a multitude of citizens gathered at the Court House park for the final open-air concert of the Imperial band. An especially fine program had been prepared for the occasion and liberal applause was accorded. There have been ten concerts—six in the park and four on and decided improvement in the playing has been noticeable even during the few weeks of the summer season. There have been fourteen concerts—ten in the park and four on the Corn Exchange. It is to be hoped that all the concerts can be given at a place as suitable as the park another season. There have been few dull nights in Janesville this summer and the band deserves a large share of the credit for making the Bower City a pleasant and attractive place for visitors and its own inhabitants. Last night's program:

EARL KELLY HELPS DEFEAT CHANDLER EGAN'S RUNNER-UP

Earl Kelly, one of Rockford's crack golfers, played his first game on the Sunnyside links here. He learned the sport in Janesville, residing in the Myers House Annex with his parents, for a number of years. One particularly brilliant piece of playing which he has done recently is related by the Rockford Evening Republic, as follows: "D. W. Sawyer, runner-up to Chandler Egan, the golf champion who put another hold on the title by his recent victory in Chicago, visited Rockford Sunday, and in company with William Schatz, of the Wheaton club, went over the links in a game against Fred McLeod and Earl Kelly with a result that the Rockford pair won 4 up and 3 to play."

WESTERN CANADA

The "Bread-Basket" of the World.

Grand Soil.

Grand Crops.
Grand Climate.
Cheap Lands.
Good Markets.
Good Churches.
Good Schools.
Good Railway Facilities.
Good Water.

Contentment and Prosperity.

One crop often pays for the land and improvements.

Western Canada is bound to become the greatest wheat producing country in the world.

A safe investment for the capitalist.

A farm in Canada is a money-maker for any one.

Everyone who has ever been there knows that it is a good country.

Buy now and you can't help but make money.

No better soil on the face of the earth.

25 to 45 bushels of No. 1 hard wheat to the acre.

75 to 140 bushels of oats and other crops just as good.

Barley, speltz, flax, millet, rye, peas, potatoes, and root crops of all kinds do well.

Not a severe climate; stock feed out all winter.

No expensive barns needed.

Good water from 10 to 25 feet.

Plenty of good timber free to settlers.

A Great Opportunity

The opportunity that was in Illinois twenty years ago, in Iowa ten years ago, in Minnesota five years ago, is today in Eastern Assiniboia. Don't wait till the opportunity is past to tell what you might have done. Buy now.

The price of productive, cheap, well located lands has always gone in but one direction—up—and must, if history repeats itself, go up by leaps and bounds, that outstrip all other save investments.

Facts for the Settler Regarding Cost and Profit of Farming in Western Canada.

In presenting the subject we have to deal with in which prospective settlers and investors are most interested, and in order to answer the questions as to cost and profit from grain growing in western Canada, we copy the following table given out by the manager of the Government Experiment Farm, carefully prepared after years of experience in the cost of producing one acre of wheat, which in this case is $9.64. REMEMBER that these figures are based upon hiring all the work done in connection with the farm. If the settler performs the labor himself, then the only outlay in cash would be for seed, twine and threshing, in which case he would save nearly two-thirds of the cost of production. We have based our figures on an average yield of 35 bushels per acre (which is less than the average for the past 12 years) at a price of only 75c per bushel.

COST OF PRODUCTION OF ONE ACRE OF WHEAT.

Breaking the prairie sod $3.00
Harrowing20
Seed wheat, 1 1/4 bushels at $1.00 per bushel 1.25
Sowing25
Cutting, binding, including twine 1.25
Shocking25
Threshing at 6c per bushel 2.10
Hauling to market, 2c per bu.70
Interest on $10—cost of one acre of land60
One year's taxes on one acre of land04

Total cost of production one acre $9.64
35 bushels of wheat per acre at 75c $26.25
Net profit per acre $16.61

The cost of production the second year will be reduced to $7.99 per acre, inasmuch as second plowing can be done for $1.25 per acre instead of $3.00 for sod breaking.

The above figures extended over 640 acres will give the following remarkable result:

640 acres, 35 bushels per acre, being 22,400 bushels, at 75c per bushel $16,800.00

Cost of production at $9.64 per acre 6,169.60

One year's net profit $10,630.40

Original cost of land $10 per acre 6,400.00

Leaving a net profit of $4,230.40

The land has paid for itself. You have your $6,400, the cost of the land, returned to you, all expense of farming paid and a clear gain of $4,230.40. The land is now under a high state of cultivation and worth $15 per acre or $9,600. Join the crowd and go up with us. Excursion every Tuesday. Call or write us. Both phones.

Forty Years Ago.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, August 25, 1895.—Compliment Acknowledged.—The bully boys of No. 2's hose cart, who did a tall specimen of running at the Fair Grounds yesterday and won the trumpet, stopped on their way to the engine house, and gave us three rousing cheers.

Foot Race.—One of the most exciting features of the Firemen's tournament (if anything connected with that display) could be properly called that which took place yesterday. The distance was half a mile and was performed by the persons named below as follows: Thomas Parson, 2:51; Frank Skarr, 2:40; John T. Hany, 2:39; John Ward, 2:39; Michael Conannon, 2:37; Dan Connelly, 2:35; John Birmingham, 2:35; James Burns 2:32; Pat McKinney, 2:32; Thomas Scanlan, 2:25.

Fatal Accident.—Yesterday a man named Griggs, who resided about a mile from the Ball Tavern was coming into town with his team, he was in some way thrown from his wagon some two miles up the river and so severely injured that he died in about three hours later. We understand that no one saw the accident, the unfortunate man being found beside the road in a dying state. His team came on to the city and was stopped and hitched.

P. S.—We learn since writing the above that Mr. G. was a young man, about 30 years of age, and leaves a wife to mourn his untimely death. The scene at the house where his friends found the body is spoken of as heart-rending.

Steam Street Cars.—A steam street car has been in operation from Grand avenue, in St. Louis, to the Fair Grounds, and has given the greatest satisfaction. The car runs a distance of a mile and three quarters, making the round trip every half hour, stopping from six to eight minutes at each end of the route. The average rate of speed is fifteen miles per hour.

It performs its work without noise or smoke and has the advantage over horses of never tiring out, and a reserved power of hauling two or three passenger cars, if necessary. Probably it would not do to put these steam street cars on roads running through populous parts of the city, but on lines that extend into the country we can see no objection to its use, while its advantages are too patent to need any explanation.

City Items.—Dr. Dodge, who saw the war through with the 19th regiment—which, by the way, arrived home a week since—is home again and looking robust and happy. He is most welcome.

A substantial stone wall to sustain the terrace on his lot is one of the improvements. Mr. Peter Myers is making around his large brick residence on east Milwaukee street. It will add materially to the general inviting look of the place.

The streets have presented quite a lively appearance today, the market day having called a good many into the city. Inquiries are made of us as to the whereabouts of parties who were to number the streets. We really cannot give any information upon the subject. Should be glad to if it were possible.

The Market Day.—There was a very generous attendance at the Fair Grounds today, and a number of good trials of speed. A considerable business was also done in pursuance of the object of the gathering.

COMING Attractions

The Lyman Twins in the Rustlers. One of the most pleasing musical comedy attractions of the season will be seen at the Myers Grand Monday, Aug. 25, when the famous comedians "The Lyman Twins" appear with their excellent company in the season's big success, "The Rustlers." This wonderful twin star comedy contains an abundance of big features, pleasing novelties, charming specialties, with a dainty chorus of pretty girls, funny comedians and a beautiful display of electrical effects never before seen with this class of attraction.

This new success was written expressly for these young stars like all others in which they have appeared with wonderful success, but from the way "The Rustlers" is meeting with approval from both press and public, they have outdone all previous attempts in this production, carrying a large company and all necessary scenic equipment complete. Those witnessing the performance of these clever young comedians and their remarkable company will be given a treat seldom offered the theatre-going public.

TEXAS BARS PRIVATE CAR LINES

State Commission Order Compels Railroads to Perform Service.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 25.—The Texas railroad commission has issued an order which is a knock-out blow to private car lines operating in Texas. The order requires that all refrigerator cars for the transportation of fruits and vegetables must be furnished by the railroads, and that the loading of such shipments must be done by the roads or the shippers. A maximum schedule of icing charges is promulgated for shipments between points in Texas, ranging from $20 per car for a distance of 100 miles up to $40 for 400 miles. Under this order of the commission, the refrigerator cars of Armour & Co. and of the American Refrigerator Transit company will be driven out of the state except in interstate business. The former company operates over the Southern Pacific lines and the American Refrigerator Transit over the Gould lines.

HUSBAND TO HIS HALF-SISTER

Couple Live Together Four Years in Ignorance of Relationship.

Wabash, Ind., Aug. 25.—Josiah Hoag has informed the county clerk that the marriage license issued to Charles Hoag and Bertha McVea was fraudulent because the two are his children, being half brother and sister. They were married four years ago having come from Ohio. The courtship was made before the two learned of their relationship. After four years of married life the young man fled, abandoning his wife and sister because of rumors. He sought to have his father make affidavit denying the relationship of the two, but he refused. A divorce will be secured. The father is a respectable farmer. This is the first case of the kind in this state. The unusually married couple had no children.

Despite Heroism of Charles Nelson the Girls Lose Their Lives.

Fort Dodge, Iowa, Aug. 25.—Struggling in twelve feet of water in the Des Moines river, Charles Nelson tried to climb ashore with Pauline Metzner, who was drowned, while he reached shore alive. Pauline and Ida Metzner, with friends, were at a picnic above Humboldt. Ida Metzner in an attempt to assist Nelson lost her balance and fell, striking her head on a rock. The bodies of both girls were recovered. Examination showed that Ida Metzner had no water in her lungs, indicating death from shock or heart trouble.

LATEST TYPE OF TURBAN

The newer types of turbans are all of them fashioned to set well up on the head, with the head size rather smaller than before, but so cleverly is the brim managed that the extreme smallness of the hat is not conspicuous. The turban illustrated shows one of the new chenille brims that are used in exactly the same way as straw braid, mounted upon a wire frame, the crown and brim being in a pretty soft shade of tan, and a border of a fancy weave of the same materials in a brown and gold. The very large bow of ribbon at the side is in the lighter shade of tan, a softly and finely ribbed design, this matching the lighter shade of tan, the loops extending well over the crown and down the side. A pair of white wings, with very long and pointed ends, are used in conjunction with the ribbon bow, one pointed forward and the other back, and the other deftly attached to the outer side, to fall against the hair on the side.

The Undesirable Simple Life. Cheese and cottage complicate life if your digestion is weak and your desire urban. So poverty is a less simple state than the possession of an income, because you are forced, if not into envy—the chief deficiency from simplicity—into a struggle with unsentimental details, with the effort to get hold of something which is of no matter.—London Outlook.

TOO MUCH RAIN SPOILED GAME

MORNING PRACTICE HAD TO BE DISPENSED WITH.

GOLFERS BEATEN 44 TO 3

in Contest at Rockford Yesterday—
Forest City Not Chagrined at Small Number of Visitors.

When asked to explain the overwhelming defeat they suffered at Rockford yesterday, members of the Sinissippi Golf Club this morning blamed it all on the rain which, they said, prevented any practice on a strange course yesterday forenoon. Some of the ardent followers of the game who staid at home were unkind enough to insinuate that the rain-water theory was too weak but the explanation promptly accepted the explanation as good and sufficient. The final score was 44 to 3. George Baumann who defeated his man three up saved the team from a shut-out. (The Rockford Star tells the story with considerable repressed jubilation as follows:

"The threatening skies and light showers of yesterday morning detained at home more than one-half the Janesville golfers and their ladies, who the evening before, had signified their intention of joining in the return visit to the Rockford club. It had been expected that the party would number half a hundred but the inclement weather greatly diminished the number and only a score in all came.

"Included in the lists of the Janesville delegation were the cracks of the Sinissippi club, but the presence of Al Schaller, Morse, MacLean, Lane and Baumann had no terrors for the Rockford exponents of the game who gave the visitors a bad trimming, the score being 44 to 3. As has been the case at former meetings of the same contestants on the local links the Rockford golfers had everything their own way and administered a severe defeat to the Janesville experts." The one-sided victory of the Bower City team over the Rockford club at Janesville several weeks ago was overcome yesterday, the visitors taking only one of the eleven matches; Baumann downing Barnes 3 to 0 and saving the Wisconsinites from being blanked.

"A cool breeze swept over the links during the afternoon and with the intermittent showers the day was not altogether ideal for golf. The first round was entered on at 2 o'clock in a shower. At the end of the first round the score stood Rockford 29 to 3 for Janesville. The rain made the play rather slow although P. F. Stone made a 42 and 40.

"Though the Janesville experts were badly beaten some of the Sinissippi players put up a good game. Frank Keeler was paired with his old opponent, Al Schaller, and evened up for his defeat at Janesville by making Schaller lower his colors 1 up. President Reck was pitted against his old antagonist, J. P. Baker, and won 5 to 0. Stone and Morse fought a hard battle, the Rockford man putting his opponent down by 1 up. Baumann saved the day for the Sinissippi golfers when he took Barnes into camp 3 to 0. Stewart in his match with MacLean made the low score of the day when he went out nine holes in 29 strokes.

The score is as follows:

Al Schaller	0	Keeler	1
Mac Lean	0	Stewart	7
Sutherland	0	Haines	6
Morse	0	Stone	1
Baker	0	Reck	5
F. Schaller	0	Stevens	8
Baumann	3	Barnes	0
Field	0	Saxby	2
Valentine	0	Burpee	5
Lane	0	Spaulding	7
Kemmerer	0	Hitze	2

"The social features of the match had been arranged by the ladies of the August committee who provided a handsome entertainment for the guests from the Bower City. The club house was much more inviting than the links yesterday afternoon and there the ladies enjoyed the afternoon while the gentlemen were battling for supremacy on the green course. A quilt-match had been arranged as offering a novel and entertaining pastime but this was shortly foregone and the cozy club house sought. Mrs. Kemmerer and Mrs. P. L. Myers, two of the Janesville ladies, were best at quilts and took home the prizes. Progressive euchre was substituted for the putting match on the adjournment indoors and with the sweet music discoursed by the Herring trio made the afternoon one of thorough enjoyment and caused good cheer to reign despite the gloomy and dreary weather that ruled.

Mrs. Wheeler of Janesville won the high score prize at the cards and Mrs. Lane, the lone hand award. Luncheon was served at noon and at 6:30 o'clock about seventy-five sat down to the excellent dinner prepared by Mrs. Redmond.

"In the evening the regular assembly was held and participated in by many, a number of the guests from Janesville remaining to enjoy the pleasures of the dance. The Herring trio discoursed the music that inspired the dancers."

The Rockford people immediately altered their plans for entertaining a large delegation from Janesville when the day turned out stormy. They were pleasantly surprised by the number of ladies who braved the inclement weather, said Secretary Baker this morning.

SANDY BUCHANAN'S DORKINGS ARRIVE

Rooster and Two Hens Shipped from Scotland Thirteen Days Ago,
Put in Appearance Today.

Thirteen days ago there were shipped from Glasgow, Scotland, to Sandy Buchanan of this city a Dorking rooster and two hens. They arrived at Janesville this morning, somewhat wearied by their long journey but able to step about quite lively and take notice. The Dorkings have fine toes—one more on each foot than their brethren and sisters of the same race. The rooster possesses plumage of a yellowish white and dark green, and a comb of such generous proportions as to elicit words of admiration from the chicken-fanciers who have seen him. He is lusty-lunged and his voice sounds like an infant fog horn. The hens wear a plumage of brown. They are said to be great "layers."

BELOIT GAMBLERS PAY $100 FINES

For Conducting Gaming Rooms After
Mayor Had Announced That
Vice Was To Be Abolished.

Ben Pratt and Harry Carroll of Beloit, arrested during a raid of the gambling places in the Line City under the personal direction of the mayor or several weeks ago, appeared in municipal court this afternoon and pleaded guilty to the charge of conducting games. Judge Fifelet fined each $100 and costs and the fine and costs were paid. The similar actions against Nicholas Stokes and Louis Bettinger were dismissed.

HOST AT A PARTY TAKEN TO JAIL

J. H. Kranenburg Was Arrested on the Charge of Pulling Gun on Man at Assembly Hall.

J. H. Kranenburg, a young man who came to the city last April and engaged in the business of sodding lawns, etc., one of the trio who managed the dance at Assembly hall last evening, was arrested just before the close of the festivities on the charge of threatening a man by the name of McCarthy with a gun. He was taken to the lock-up after he had been searched and a .35 calibre revolver found in his coat pocket. Kranenburg claimed that McCarthy was drunk and struck him when he had refused admission to the dancing floor. He denied having pulled the gun on McCarthy and explained its presence in his pocket by saying that he had taken it to the hall to guard the money, it having been decided that he should act as treasurer and there being about $60 in his custody. At first he said he would fight the case to a finish but when persons whom he expected to go his $200 bail failed to show up at noon, he changed his mind. "I never slept on a bed like that in my life before," said the prisoner referring to his jail experience. "And I never ate bakers' bread before, either," he added. "One woman who supplies the spring chickens for the lock-up unfortunately did not get around this morning," said Chief Constable. Kranenburg is to be married to a Milwaukee girl Monday and wears the picture of his intended on the lapel of his coat. On his plea of guilty he was fined $5 and costs amounting to $2.80, which he paid.

MAN WHO NARROWLY ESCAPED LYNCHING

in Janesville During the Early Eighties
Was Arrested in Chicago Last Night.

Back in the eighties when H. L. Skavlem was sheriff a man named Frank Punish was convicted of adultery and sent to Waupun for three years. He was suspected of the murder of a servant girl who had worked at the C. S. Jackman home and whose body was found in the gas house pond. Nothing could be proven but the suspicion of him was so well grounded that a body of men were waiting, rope in hand, at a convenient corner to lynch him, when Officers Brown and Skavlem took him up to receive his sentence. The man had been a painter by trade and lived over a saloon north of the East Side engine house.

A man named Frank Punish, Chicago, last night, charged with robbing women by advertising for a housekeeper and then taking money from those who answered. He confessed to Detective Sergeant Alock that he had been released from Joliet but three weeks ago for serving a ten-year sentence, that thirty-three years of his fifty-eight in the world had been spent in prison, and that he had served four terms in Joliet and four in Waupun. He went to Waupun from Milwaukee first in 1871. Local officers say this is the same man as the Janesville criminal.

FINDS FAULTS IN MANY BUILDINGS

J. W. LANCASTER OF MILWAUKEE
INSPECTING INSURANCE RISKS.

CHANGES ARE NECESSARY

Is Not Specific in Buildings That Need Improvements, But
It Is General.

J. W. Lancaster, an insurance inspector, who makes his home in Milwaukee, is in the city, going over the city carefully to see if the companies which are represented here should raise their rates on risks or not. He has already been here some three or four weeks—and expects it will take as long again before he has completed his work.

Many Faults

Mr. Lancaster finds many faults with the construction of Janesville buildings. While they are not in the best of condition according to the latest ideas of fire protection still Mr. Lancaster says they are not all fire traps. He recommends that greater care be taken by property owners in the shape of protecting their property from fire from other buildings. Cutoffs and special attention to the electric wiring of buildings are hobbies of his and he finds plenty of room for preaching upon their values throughout the city.

Fire Protection

Fire doors and fire shutters, he thinks, should be installed in many buildings. This would insure better protection than now exists. Division walls of blocks should also extend two feet above the roofs. Electric wiring also comes in for criticism. While it is of the safest character known several years ago, the latest models are different. "It is hard to ask a man to rebuild his whole system," said Mr. Lancaster, "but the modern ideas are such that in many cases this would be necessary in Janesville. The wiring is not, however, unsafe."

A Hazzard City

Janesville is known as a Hazzard city owing to the factories and mills adjacent to the Milwaukee street bridge. Mr. Lancaster is pleased to learn the old raceway is being filled up, as that was always a channel through which a fire could travel from one side of the river to the other. With this closed the danger is lessened.

Merely Inspecting

Mr. Lancaster is not here to raise insurance rates, merely to inspect the buildings and get the lay of the land to see if a raise is necessary. "The only way to enforce better fire protection is through the pocketbooks of the property owners," he said this morning. "Raise the rates and they will appreciate the dangers that exist."

"STOCKING SHOWER" FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Unique Entertainment Given for Miss
Gladys Nicholson Provided
Much Merriment.

Mrs. Charles J. Myhr entertained at her home on Milwaukee avenue last evening for her niece, Miss Gladys Nicholson, who is to be wedded during the early part of next month to Frank Hagan of Houston, Texas. The affair was announced as a "stocking shower" for the bride-to-be and the guests did not overlook the possibilities which such a unique affair seemed to furnish. When the wrappers were removed, an assortment of all sizes, commencing with tiny doll's hosiery and including a single lonely pair of men's socks; and all patterns from the gaily colored peek-a-boo to the plain black, were disclosed. It is almost unnecessary to state that there were no men on the invitation list. The dining room where a delicious repast was served was tastefully decorated in red and green, while the color scheme of the parlor was in yellow. The latter room was placed a Christmas tree from which the gifts were taken. In the number present were: The Misses Grace Conroy, Helen McDonald, Catherine Blunk, Maude McDonald, Edith Fathers, Anna Blunk, Edna Wright, Jessie McKenna, and Mrs. George Duller.

Furmon Brittan Word was received today by Col. W. B. Brittan announcing that his brother, Furmon Brittan, aged eighty-three years, died at Newark, N. J., at five-thirty this morning.

LET THE EAGLES SCREAM.

King of Birds Looks Well on the Label of the King of Cigars.

It is not often that the cigar store has a lot of eagles, but Smith Drug Co. when they received their stock of Wadsworth Bros. Chicco cigars found that a handsome eagle decorated the box. It is very appropriate they say to have the King of Birds on the label of the King of Cigars. This is one that pleases all who love a good smoke, yet it sells for only 5c. Smokers who used to pay ten to fifteen cents for cigars now puff up the Chiccos, and are better pleased and satisfied.

Try a Chicco and you will thank Smith Drug Co. for recommending the cigar.

DOCTOR FIND LUNG BUILDER

New York Physician Discovers Sure Cure for Tuberculosis.

VEGETABLE JUICES FORM BASIS

Laying the Disease to Malnutrition, His Experiments Bring Forth a Remedy That is Simply Marvelous in its Curative Effects.

New York, Aug. 25.—With a request for professional secrecy the management of the New York Postgraduate hospital has sent to the physicians of this city a circular announcing the discovery of a vegetable fluid which is working marvels in the cure of consumption. The cures it has effected are positive and complete, the patients in each case showing absolutely no signs of a recurrence of the disease.

When it is considered that one person in every ten in this state dies of tuberculosis and that a similar death percentage exists in many other states the value of the new formula may be appreciated.

The credit for the discovery belongs to Dr. John E. Russell, who is at the head of the hospital, staff of physicians in charge, of the hospital annex. Up to July 15 as many cures had been effected at the annex as during the entire year of 1904.

Cures Are Marvelous.

Eleven persons who were looked upon as "sure death" patients recovered so completely that they now show absolutely no signs of the disease. Fifty others are on the rapid road to recovery.

The efficacy of the cure is all the more astonishing on account of its simplicity. The medicine consists simply of a compound of raw vegetable juices. Heretofore when the ravages of disease have been checked by other means the lesions of the lungs continued. This is not the case where the new formula is used. In almost every instance the patient increases in weight and his general health is restored.

That the vegetable juice theory is not a wildcat or visionary one has been demonstrated to an entire disinterested body of doctors.

Country Will Benefit.

If the cures at the annex of the Postgraduate hospital continue in the ratio of the last few months it is probable that the fluid will be eventually bottled and distributed over the country, with directions as to its use.

Dr. Russell began his experiments upon the basis that pulmonary tuberculosis is a disease of malnutrition and that he could displace the old theory of drugs and specific medicines by substituting proper food, hygiene and exercise.

He gathered equal parts by weight of raw vegetables, and after thoroughly washing by scrubbing with a brush and rinsing in fresh water without removing the skins, mixed them together and chopped them in a bowl until the particles were small enough to go easily into the receiver of the grinding machine, where the mass was reduced to pulp. He collected the pulp as it fell from the machine and squeezed the juice out through coarse muslin cloth.

List of Ingredients Used.

Dr. Russell began by using potatoes, onion, beets, turnips, cabbage and celery. Later on he added sweet potatoes, apples, pineapples, carrots and parsnips. Still later, rhubarb, summer squash, tomatoes, spinach, radishes, string beans and green peas in the pod.

The results of this administration of this juice to tuberculosis patients in the hospital was so satisfactory, not to say astonishing, that the hand machine was discarded and a power machine installed for grinding the vegetables, and a cider press was used for extracting the juice from the pulp. A large quantity of juice was prepared every day and kept on ice.

The entire course of experiments seemed to demonstrate that the cooking of vegetables destroys all enzymic action on the conversion of starches to sugar in the system.

Mining Towns Flooded and Thirty Persons Are Drowned.

Denver, Col., Aug. 25.—It is reported that a cloudburst at Tabasco, a coal mining camp near Trinidad, Col., flooded the town and drowned thirty persons. Trinidad is in the extreme southern portion of the state, about 200 miles from Denver.

DOCTOR FIND LUNG BUILDER

New York Physician Discovers Sure Cure for Tuberculosis.

VEGETABLE JUICES FORM BASIS

Laying the Disease to Malnutrition, His Experiments Bring Forth a Remedy That is Simply Marvelous in its Curative Effects.

New York, Aug. 25.—With a request for professional secrecy the management of the New York Postgraduate hospital has sent to the physicians of this city a circular announcing the discovery of a vegetable fluid which is working marvels in the cure of consumption. The cures it has effected are positive and complete, the patients in each case showing absolutely no signs of a recurrence of the disease.

When it is considered that one person in every ten in this state dies of tuberculosis and that a similar death percentage exists in many other states the value of the new formula may be appreciated.

The credit for the discovery belongs to Dr. John E. Russell, who is at the head of the hospital, staff of physicians in charge, of the hospital annex. Up to July 15 as many cures had been effected at the annex as during the entire year of 1904.

Cures Are Marvelous.

Eleven persons who were looked upon as "sure death" patients recovered so completely that they now show absolutely no signs of the disease. Fifty others are on the rapid road to recovery.

The efficacy of the cure is all the more astonishing on account of its simplicity. The medicine consists simply of a compound of raw vegetable juices. Heretofore when the ravages of disease have been checked by other means the lesions of the lungs continued. This is not the case where the new formula is used. In almost every instance the patient increases in weight and his general health is restored.

That the vegetable juice theory is not a wildcat or visionary one has been demonstrated to an entire disinterested body of doctors.

Country Will Benefit.

If the cures at the annex of the Postgraduate hospital continue in the ratio of the last few months it is probable that the fluid will be eventually bottled and distributed over the country, with directions as to its use.

Dr. Russell began his experiments upon the basis that pulmonary tuberculosis is a disease of malnutrition and that he could displace the old theory of drugs and specific medicines by substituting proper food, hygiene and exercise.

BATTLESHIP STRIKES LITTLE OIL SCHOONER

Capsize Vessel Is Righted and Towed Into Port After Its Occupants Are Rescued.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 25.—After colliding with and damaging the little kerosene oil schooner N. S. Gallup of New York, the battleship Kearsarge arrived in the harbor with the disabled craft and her crew of two. The warship was not injured and the loss to the owner of the schooner, the National Oil company of New York, does not exceed $500.

The battleship squadron went out for a course of maneuvers between Point Judith and Newport, but was obliged to head for this port because of a dense fog. At a point five miles southeast of Point Judith the Gallup, which was bound from New York for Portsmouth, R. I., with a cargo of empty oil barrels below and filled casks on deck, crossed the bow of the battleship.

The latter, steaming at the rate of five knots, struck the schooner on the starboard side below the water-line and the water which poured in through a hole a foot square soon filled the Gallup and caused her to capsize. The only persons on board were Capt. John Andrews and his son William. They were rescued by the crew of the Kearsarge.

Capt. Raymond P. Rogers, commanding officer of the battleship, ordered hawsers run out, which, by the aid of divers, were placed beneath the schooner, and she was righted. The vessel was temporarily repaired and brought here. About fifty barrels were lost.

GIRLS' SCHOOL OF ECONOMY

University of Nebraska Gives Instruction as to How to Spend Money.

A good many schools have departments where girls are taught domestic science in a more or less theoretical way, but it remains for Nebraska to establish at its state university a course in which young women may be instructed in the art of spending money to advantage. Every woman, of course, knows how to spend money in the sense of paying it out for something, but it is the belief of a good many men that she is so anxious to get rid of any funds she may have in her possession that she does not receive their value. It is to show her how to make her outlay wisely and judiciously that the new department is to be established.

It will require a fund of $3,000, and some cynical persons aver that this is to be used in furnishing a miniature department store, where lessons in bargains can be given. This is probably not true, but however the task is to be performed, whether with or without object lessons in the shape of actual goods, it is proposed to equip the girls with a knowledge of values in meats, groceries and dry goods, how to distinguish between cotton and wool fabrics, in short to teach them that large share of the science of housekeeping which consists of judicious buying.

Possibly this art may be taught in schools. Perhaps the professors—those of them who are married men may be able to impart to the students the secret of the value of money, even if they have not been able properly to convince their wives that they (the professors) know all that is to be learned on the subject. It may be that girls in large numbers will flock to this school for the purpose of finding how to make a little money go a long way, but there is reason to suspect that this will not be the case, but that the majority will continue to follow the time-honored method of learning how to economize—namely, by marrying men of small incomes.

Journalist," Etc.

"There is no doubt of it," said De Courcy softly.

"Doubt of what?" asked the king.

"The oath he took will sit lightly on his conscience. He prayed that his arm's strength might equal his heart's fealty. I distrust those who talk glibly of their hearts, and his was a most ambiguous prayer."

"Surely if ever honesty beamed from a man's face it was from Armstrong's. The Scots are trustworthy men."

"Some of them, your majesty."

Uneasy suspicion came into the sunken eyes of the king as he turned them on his chamberlain.

"What do you fear, De Courcy?"

"I have been studying the man these three days past. I accepted without question his assurances, and threw him off his guard. Cromwell loves an honest looking envoy, and from what Armstrong said I am sure he saw Cromwell no further away than Northampton. He was very ready with his account of his own country people, but he told us nothing about the marvelous luck that brought him safely through a hostile land, which we know to our cost is admirably patrolled."

"If you knew this man to be a traitor or an emissary of that rebel, why did you bring him into our presence?"

"I could not be sure of him, your majesty, and there was always a chance that he was loyal and might get through."

"To raise my hopes like this and then dash them to the ground!"

"Not so, your majesty. If you will pardon me, do you place importance on this commission?"

"The utmost importance. I know Traquair, and he will raise all Scotland for me if this commission reach him."

"Then we will make sure that Armstrong is honest?"

"Ah, De Courcy, that was said when a treacherous murder was intended. How will you make sure that Armstrong is honest?"

"I should trouble no more about Armstrong, but if you will issue a duplicate of that commission I will guarantee that it reaches the hand of Traquair. I am a Frenchman and a subject of the French king, I carry my passport to that effect. Even if I am stopped I shall resist search on the ground of my nationality, and Cromwell is too greatly in awe of the power of France to risk its might being thrown in the scale against him. Indeed I doubt if I could offer a greater service to your majesty than to be captured and appeal to Louis."

"The king's face cleared.

"You would not stop Armstrong then?"

"Assuredly not. If his copy gets into Cromwell's hands he may slacken his alertness and not be on the outlook for a duplicate. As I said before, there is a chance the Scot plays fair, but two commissions in the hands of Traquair will do no harm, and we make sure."

"You are in the right, and your advice is always of the best. How soon will you be ready to leave?"

"This very moment, your majesty. There is no time to be lost."

"True! True! True!" Then to the secretary: "Write another. Do you remember the names?"

"Yes, your majesty. I have them here on a slip."

De Courcy bade farewell to the king, who urged him to return as soon as horse could bring him, and went to his room to prepare for his journey, the duplicate commission following him there.

Armstrong strode to the inn, sped up the stair and knocked at the door by the landing. Frances herself opened it, the determination on her face to refuse admission to any other than he melting into a welcome as she greeted him.

"My girl, are you ready for the north?"

"Yes, yes, ready and eager. Have you seen the king?"

"I have, and his royal signature rests over my heart."

The joy fled from the girl's face; she turned and walked with uncertain steps to the table. A hope had arisen that the venomous De Courcy would have prejudiced the king against the young man and that the hateful task of robbery would not be required. But now this last refuge had failed. She strove not to weep.

"If you would rather not go until tomorrow," said Armstrong, "I can wait, but, lassie, I'm desperate anxious to leave Oxford as soon as possible. We will not travel farther than Banbury tonight."

"I am ready," she replied, with forced firmness.

CHAPTER XXIV.

THE road between Oxford and Banbury is the most peaceful of thoroughfares, laid with reasonable directness, gently undulating in parts, passing through quiet villages and a sweet country, mildly beautiful, yet to the mind of Frances Westworth this innocent highway ever remained, as it were, a section of the broad path to perdition. In after life she never thought of it but with a creepy sensation of horror.

Despondency seemed to be the portion of William Armstrong as well as of his fair companion. She surmised that he was pondering on the events which had happened when their faces were set south over this course, and in part she was right, but the thoughts which rumbled in his mind were those prompted by De Courcy, and the wild

Frenchman had been accurate enough in his belief that the young man's pleasure in the northward journey would be spoiled. He could not bring himself to ask any explanation from the girl, nor even tell her what De Courcy had said, for he saw that already a weight of woe oppressed her, and to that burden he would not add a pressure of the slightest word.

He possessed a supreme confidence in her and only feared that she had loved this runaway once and that some remnant of this long ago affection still remained. Her own words before they reached Oxford, her own action during the encounter fronting the Crown inn, disturbed him far more than the insinuations of the Frenchman. He strove to rid himself of these thoughts, but they were very intrusive and persistent. At last with an effort he roused himself and cried with feigned hilarity:

"Frances, we travel like two mutes. The influence of saddened Oxford is still upon us both. We are long out of sight of the town, so let us be done with all remembrance of it. The meeting with the king this morning has stirred me up to a great pity for him, but vexed meditations on his case are no help either to him or to us. The spur is the only weapon I can wield for him now, so let us gallop and cry, 'God save the king!'"

With that they raced together for a time and were the better of it. He had become almost cheerful again when the spires of Banbury came into view, and thanked fortune that the first stage of their march was safely over.

They found old John and his pack horse both ready for the road again, and Armstrong was plainly loath to let such a fine evening slip by without further progress, but Frances seemed so wan and worn that he had not the heart to propose a more distant stopping place, and, with a sigh, he put up his horse for the night.

While he was gone the innkeeper came furtively to Frances, and, after seeing the pass, led her to the prepared room and showed her the door.

Much against her will, Armstrong insisted upon her coming to supper with him, although she protested she had no appetite, and indeed sat opposite him forlorn and could not touch a morsel. In vain he urged her to eat, but she shook her head, avoiding his glance and keeping her eyes downcast.

"My girl," he said anxiously, "you are completely tired. I see that you are on the point of being ill if better care is not taken. Rest here a few days, I beg of you. Eager as I am to be forward, I will stay if you wish to have me near you, or I will push on and come back for you."

"I shall be well enough in the morning, most like. I am tired tonight."

"And dispirited too."

"Yes, and dispirited. You will excuse me, I know."

Frances rose to her feet, but seemed so faint that she leaned against the table for support. He was by her side at once.

"My sweet lass, I am so sorry for you. Tell me what I can do for you and on my soul my life is yours if you require it."

"No, no! Heaven grant you take no hurt for my sake."

He slipped his arm about her waist and would have drawn her toward him, but with more strength than he had expected her to possess she held away. His great love for her almost overcame him and all the prudence he had gathered was scattered suddenly to the winds. "Dear, dear lass, one touch of our lips and see if all doubts do not dissolve before the contact."

Now she wrenched herself free and would have escaped but that he sprang forward and caught her by the wrists. A grip she was to remember later in the night. In spite of this imprisoning, her hands were raised to the sides of her face and a look of such terror shot from her eyes that he feared some madness had come upon her.

"Not that! Not that!" she shrieked.

"The kiss of Judas! It would kill me!"

His arms dropped paralyzed to his sides and he stepped back a pace, amazed at the expression she had used and the terror of her utterance. Next instant he was alone and the closed door between them. Still he stood where she had left him.

"The kiss of Judas!" he muttered.

"The kiss of Judas! She loves him, thinks me his friend, trying to take Judas advantage of him because we are alone together." De Courcy spoke a truth. Woe is me, she loves him, and I, blind fool—O God, pity that poor girl and this insanity of passion wasted on so rank a cur!"

Frances fled to her room and threw herself on the bed in an agony of tears. This storm subsided into a gentle rain of subdued weeping and finally ceased as she heard the heavy tramp of riding boots in the adjoining room. She sat up in the darkness, listening intently. He closed the wooden shutters of the window, slinking them to be sure that their fastenings were secure. Then the bolts of the outer door were thrust into their places, but this apparently failing to satisfy the doubts of the inmate, there was a sound of some heavy article of furniture being dragged across the room; then the tramping ceased and all was still. Unheeding she heard the clock in a neighboring tower toll the hour; now it struck again and she counted the notes. Eleven! It was still too early. People slept heavier as the night wore on. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven! It must be midnight, and the first five strokes had been on Cromwell's breastplate. She roused herself and attempted to take off her shoes, but her hands were trembling so she was forced to desist. She sat up again, telling herself it was better to wait until all effect of the long climbing had ceased, for the striking of twelve sometimes disturbed or awakened the soundest sleeper. The clock tower seemed dangerously near, as if it were approaching her hour by hour. At last the shoes came off, and in stocking feet she stood by the secret door, waiting till the frightfully rapid beating of her heart should moderate. It threatened to choke her. Then she slid back the bar and drew open the door, all so smoothly oiled that there was not the whisper of a creak. She tiptoed into the cavern of blackness and silence, holding her spread hands in front of her, moving slowly, with the utmost caution, step by step.

In her mind she had estimated, from her earlier survey of the room, that nine steps would take her to the bed. Now she realized she had taken a dozen and yet had not come to it. She stood bewildered and listened. The helplessness of a person in the pitch dark thrilled her with a new fear, unsettling all her calculations. The panic of pulsation in her throat and in her ears at first rendered any attempt at listening futile, but at last she heard his regular breathing, as peaceful as that of an infant, and it came from the other side of the room. For a moment this terrified her and she wondered if she were really awake or in the mazes of some badling nightmare, but the solution came to her mind and quieted the growing agitation. It had been his bed that he had dragged across the door, and he was now sleeping against the outside door. She changed her direction and, with her former stealth, came ghostlike to the edge of the couch.

His doublet was open at the throat; that was so much to the good. Like a snowflake in its coldness and its lightness her hand stole down underneath his vest, fluttered by the slow, steady, subdued beating of his heart, running no such wild race as her own at that moment. It seemed incredible that at last her fingers closed on the parchment, but there it lay, and gently she drew it forth. Was the robbery to be so easily accomplished after all? Ah, she had congratulated herself too soon. It stuck fast. Either the silken cord that bound it was caught or the document was secured to the vest, a contingency she had never thought of, and yet what more natural? Twice she tugged it gently, then a third time more strenuously, when it came unexpectedly away and her knuckles struck the sleeper under the chin. Instantly, like the snap of a steel trap, his fingers closed upon her wrist, and his voice rang out as wide awake and clear as ever he had spoken to her:

"Frances!"

Now the racing heart stopped dead. Lucky for her that at this supreme moment all action was impossible! and that she was stricken into frozen marble. She imagined he was awake and knew her, and then the cold horror of her situation numbed thought at its source.

"Frances!" The voice came more sleepily this time, and he repeated twice, very rapidly, "Frances, Frances, Frances!" Feebly her heart had taken up its work again. She was not to die as she had feared. Sudden with drowsiness, his voice rambled on. Then the words became indistinct and died away. But alas, the grip of iron remained on her wrist. For a long time she stood there motionless, then tried to disengage his fingers gently, but at the first movement the grasp tightened again. One o'clock struck. He slept so silently that it began to appear to her agitated brain that she was a prisoner of the dead. She came near to sinking from very weariness. Two o'clock tolled from the tower. Sometimes she fancied she slept standing there, but her five fingers did not sleep. She kept wondering in which direction lay the open door, for at times the room seemed to swim around her, thus disturbing all sense of locality. She almost laughed aloud when she thought of herself free, but groping helplessly for the open door, falling to find it, and she shuddered that even the remembrance of laughter should come to her at such a time. Surely a sign of approaching frenzy.

Turf Stars Vie For Favor

Sysonby and Artful Are Leaders of Present Racing Season—Both Owned by Millionaires. Careers of Equine Speed Marvels—What Keene Said.

Just at present admirers of the turf are discussing the merits of Sysonby and Artful, the two stars of the present racing season. There is naturally very much difference of opinion. Both three-year-olds are owned by millionaires.

Sysonby and Artful have not met this year, but as two-year-olds they met in the classic Futurity of 1904. The result of that race was Artful first, Tradition second and Sysonby third. Among the "also-runs" were Agile, Tanya and Olseau. It was a memorable race. Artful ran nose and nose with Sysonby for the first three furlongs. Sysonby tired at the end of the half and was nipped out by Tradition. Artful won easily by several lengths. She had quite a substantial

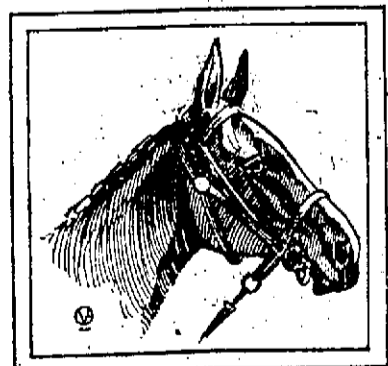

JAMES R. KEENE'S SYSONBY. pull in the weights, Sysonby and Tradition carrying 127 pounds to her 114 pounds.

Sysonby is a wonderfully improved colt over his two-year-old form. His recent victories in the Tidal, Commonwealth, Realization, Iroquois and Great Republic stakes show this. In the Tidal Sysonby ran a mile and a quarter in the wonderful time for a three-year-old of 2:05, with the heavy impost of 120 pounds in the saddle.

Artful was accounted the speed marvel of the American turf, but recently she showed that she could go a route by beating such stars as Ort-Welles and Belldune a mile, and a quarter, over a dead track, in 2:04 4-5. While Artful is certainly a wonderful filly, she has not yet won as a three-year-old under big weight, as Sysonby has. She had up but 103 pounds in the Brighton Beach (N. Y.) handicap.

Until recently there was some doubt as to Sysonby's gameness and staying qualities, but five victories have cleared his title to the king of American race horses. Artful is justly entitled to be called the queen of the turf, and the meeting of these two would settle the question as to which was entitled to championship honors.

Sysonby is sired by the English horse Melton, and James R. Keene, his owner, at least twice, refused offers of $100,000 when he was a two-year-old. This was after the colt had won the Junior championship. Keene remarking at the time: "I owned Domino and Commando and know how fast they could run. I honestly believe that Sysonby is ten pounds better than either of them was; also, that he might, if Hamburg could be restored to the ARTFUL, OWNED BY H. P. WHITNEY. races as a two-year-old, give that great colt ten pounds. I am not taking anything away from Domino, Commando and Hamburg. Each in his time was an undisputed champion. This fellow is the colt of a century." If Sysonby be short of this praise as a two-year-old he has certainly made good as a three-year-old.

Artful was bred by the late William C. Whitney and now runs under the colors of his son, Harry Payne Whitney. She is a daughter of Hamburg and Martha II. and broke the world's record for the Eclipse course at Westchester, N. Y., as a two-year-old by covering the distance in 1:08.

SCROFULA FROM PARENT TO CHILD

The laws of heredity are invariable and the diseased blood of parents is handed down to children in the form of Scrofula. Being thus deeply rooted nothing can reach the disease but a constitutional remedy. The very foundation of the blood is diseased, and until it is purified and made strong, those who are born with a scrofulous tendency cannot have the blessing of robust health.

Cleveland, O., 122 Brownlow St. Inherited Scrofula from my ancestry, and this means, of course, weak, impure blood and a run-down, debilitated condition of the system. Treatment of physicians did not do me anything like the good S. S. S. did last winter when I took it. It promotes appetite and digestion, gives strength and energy, builds up the general health in every way, and in addition to being an excellent blood purifier it adds to me success as a remedy for Scrofula. It did more for me than anything I have used, and with pleasure I recommend it. S. S. S. completely cured me of this blighting disease.

MRS. LOUISE COHEN,

S. S. S., the king of blood purifiers, is the medicine that is required, because it changes the quality of the blood by cleansing it of all poisons and impurities, building it up and strengthening the entire system. When S. S. S. has restored the blood to a healthy condition and forced out the scrofulous deposits, there is a sure return to health. No remedy has ever been found to equal this great vegetable preparation for the cure of all diseases arising from a diseased or impure blood supply.
